Chairman's message

Xin chào,

As we mark the 20th anniversary of Elegance Hospitality Group in 2026, I am filled with deep pride and sincere gratitude as I reflect on the journey we have shared together. Twenty years is more than a milestone, it is a meaningful journey shaped by dedication, resilience, and a lasting commitment to genuine hospitality.

When I founded EHG, my vision was simple yet clear, to create not only places to stay, but experiences that truly connect with people. Today, that vision remains at the heart of everything we do. As we move forward, our focus is to elevate the guest experience at every touchpoint, to refine every detail, to deepen personalization, and to ensure that each moment feels thoughtful, seamless, and truly memorable.

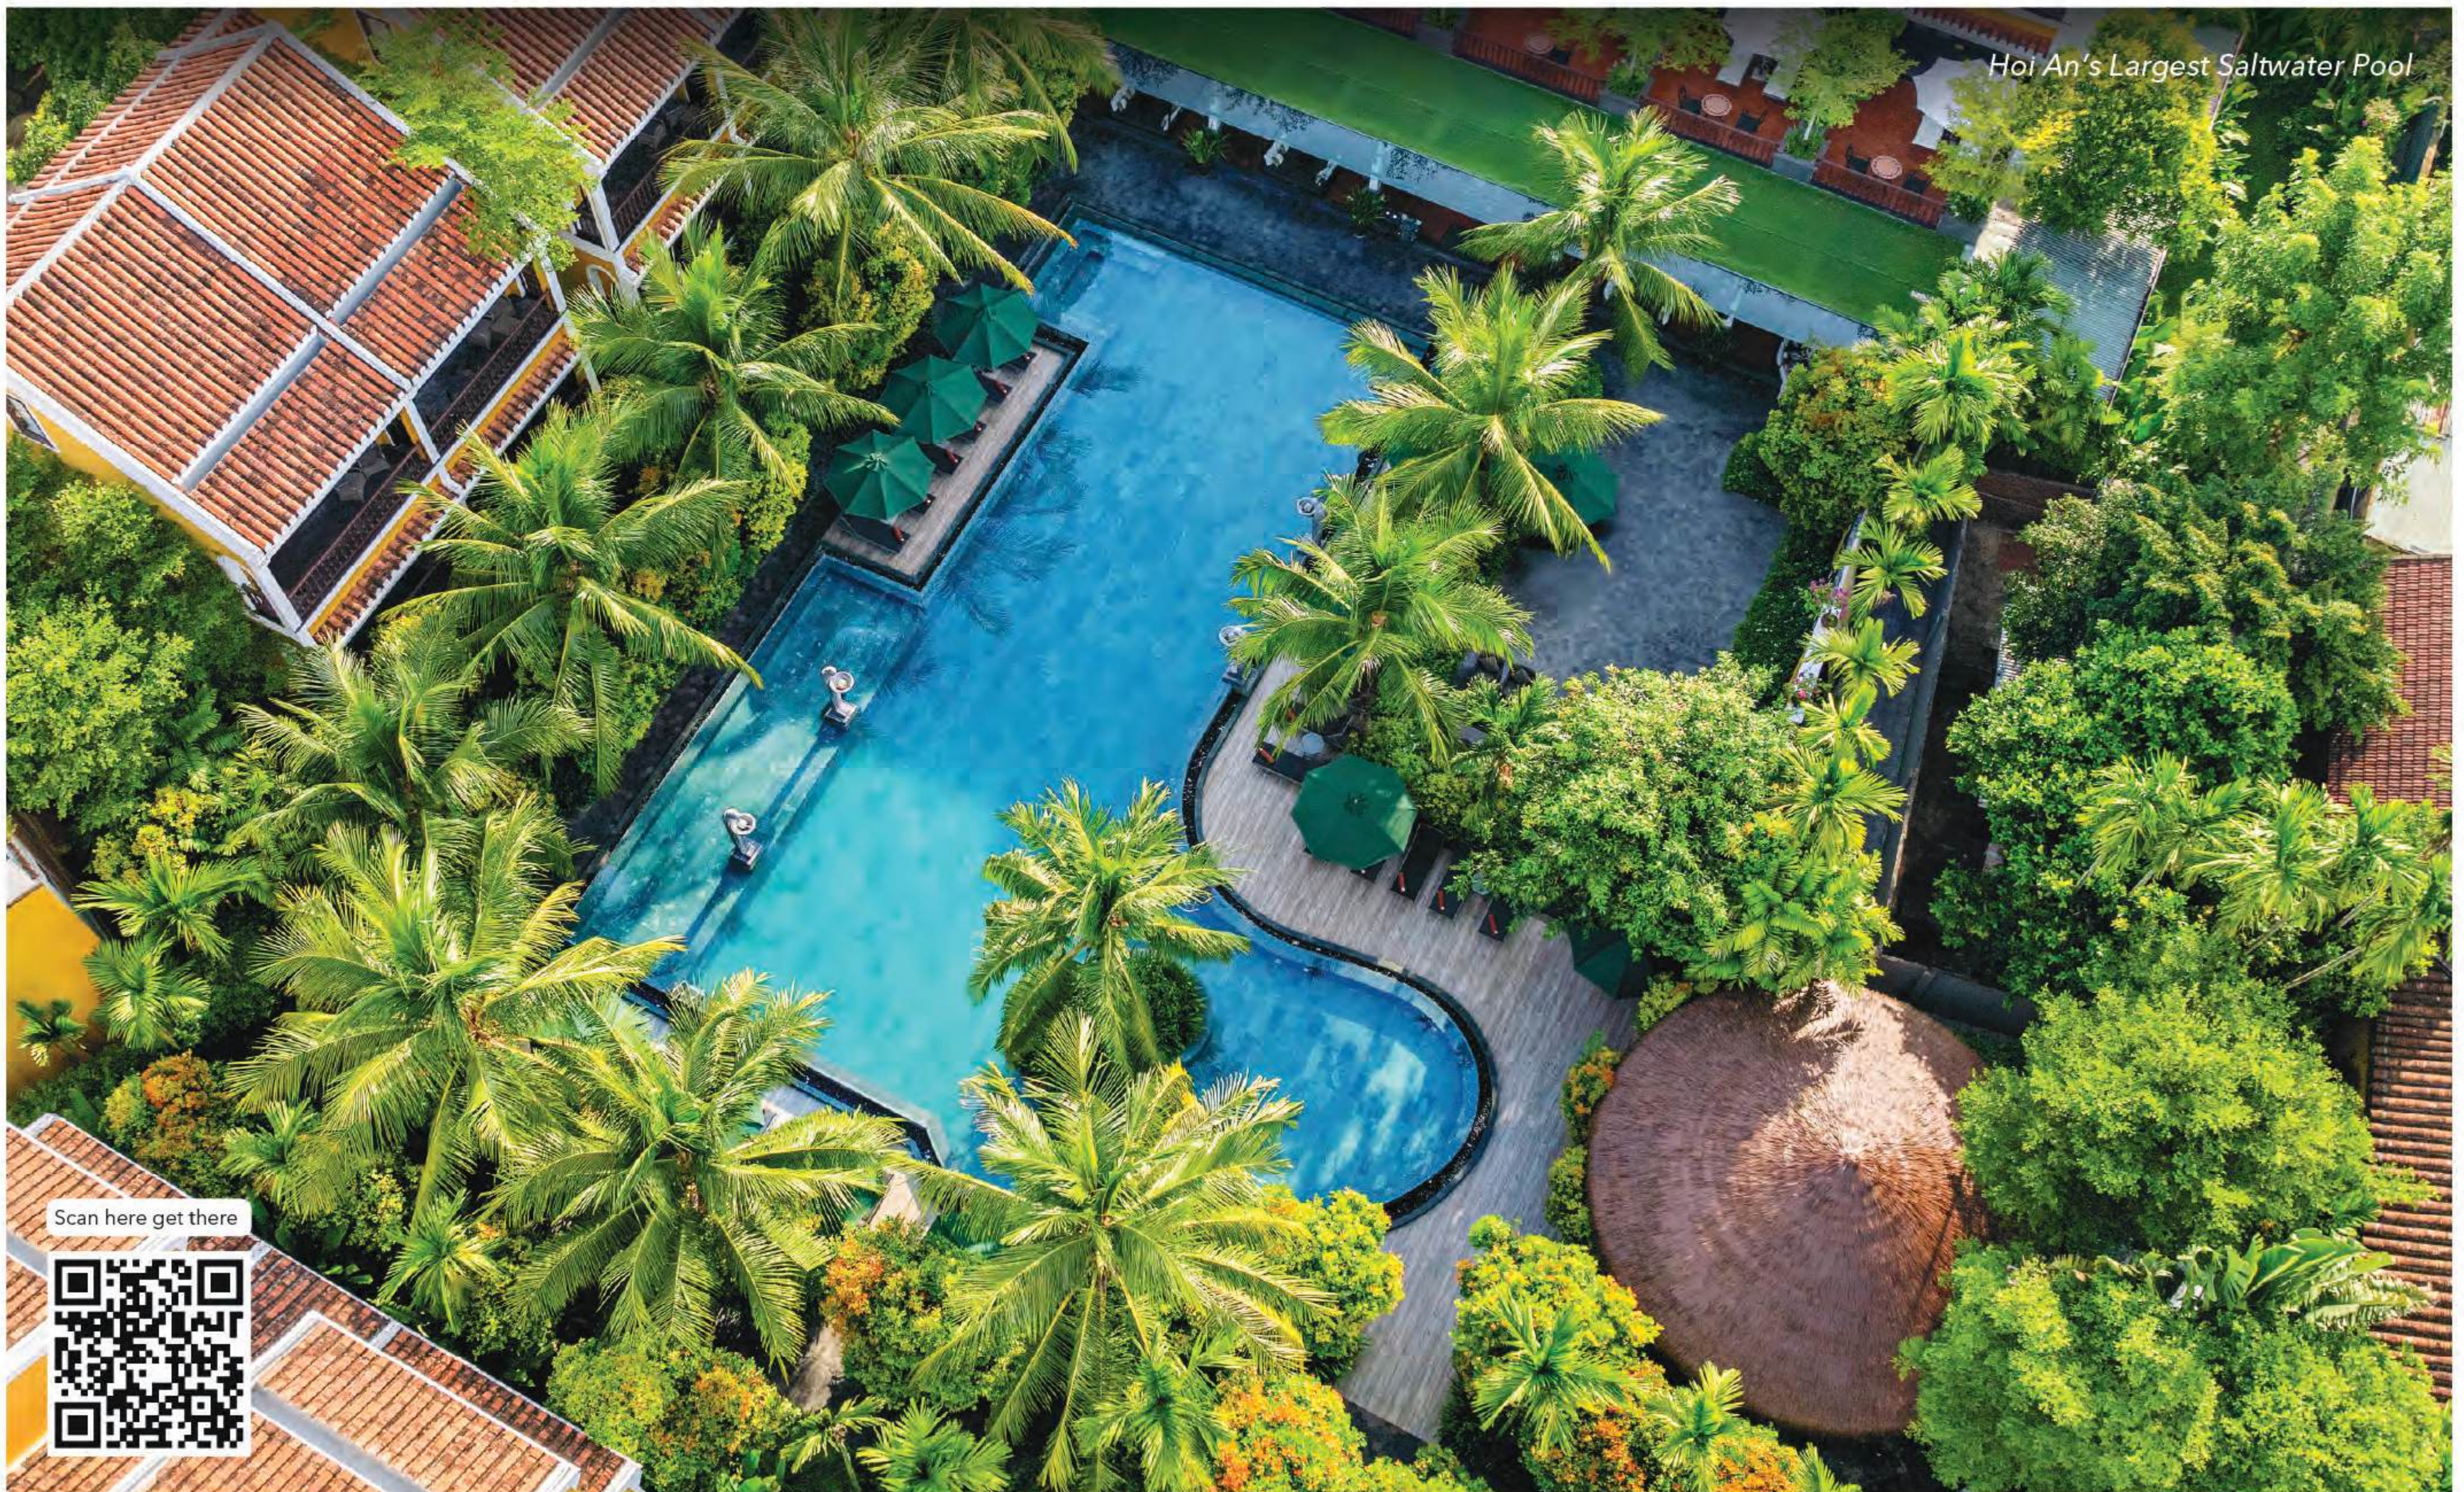

This journey would not have been possible without the trust and companionship of our valued guests, partners, and team members. Over the past 20 years, your support has been our greatest strength, encouraging us to grow, to improve, and to continuously raise our standards while staying true to who we are.

Looking ahead, I sincerely hope that those who have been part of our journey will continue to walk alongside us, not only today, but for the next 30, 40 years and beyond. Your trust means everything to us, and it is the foundation for everything we will continue to build.

With heartfelt appreciation, I thank you for being part of our story. We look forward to welcoming you again, and to creating many more memorable moments together at La Siesta.

People of EHG

TO MAKE EVERY GUEST

FALL IN LOVE
AT THE FIRST BITE

Chef LÊ VŨ LUÂN

SENIOR COOK
AT CLOUD NINE SAIGON
LA SIESTA PREMIUM SAIGON

"My passion for cooking was nurtured from a very young age, through the food my grandmother made, and through watching the quiet dedication with which she created wholesome, soulful meals for the whole village."

Perhaps it is that love for his grandmother, for the time spent by her side, for the flavors she cooked that felt like home, that gives Chef Luân's dishes the rare emotional depth. This reveals itself in an almost absolute reverence for the finest ingredients, whether sourced from Norway, Japan, or close to home. Each ingredient and spice is allowed to speak in its own true voice, shaped by the same wide-eyed wonder he felt as a child, savoring his grandmother's cooking in the lush, river-woven landscapes of the Mekong Delta.

"The turning point in my career was perhaps the moment I began my journey with Cloud Nine Saigon."

Chef Luân's love for food was forged in the rigorous kitchen of Cloud Nine Saigon. Under the dedicated mentorship of Head Chef Duy Hiên, and within the disciplined environment of a five-star kitchen, his emotionally expressive cooking was refined and elevated through the classic techniques of European culinary tradition. From that crucible emerged Cloud Nine's signature East-meets-West fusion creations, dishes like "Braised salmon kho tộ style" and "Wagyu beef phở". In 2024, his dedication was recognized when he claimed the prestigious title of Champion at The Future Chef 2024.

"I've always had a hunger to push past my own limits, and to inspire my fellow chefs to enter competitions, to step outside the kitchen and rise to challenges beyond the everyday."

Cooking is not merely a profession. It is an enduring journey, shaped by a continuous stream of challenges that push you to grow. It is this fearless willingness to test himself that has forged Chef Luân into a culinary identity that is bold, distinctive, and creative. And it is this same spirit that keeps Cloud Nine in constant, beautiful evolution, always finding new ways to captivate each guest, and draw them, willingly, into love, high above the ninth cloud.

NINH BINH

Located less than 100 km south of Hanoi, Ninh Binh is one of the few places that still preserves a rare balance between pristine nature and historical depth.

Geographical Location - The Gateway of the North

Ninh Binh is situated at the southern edge of the Red River Delta, serving as a natural connection between Northern and Central Vietnam. The terrain here is formed by a distinctive combination of limestone karst mountains, vast rice fields, and a dense network of rivers-creating a landscape that is both majestic and gently poetic. From Hanoi, visitors can reach Ninh Binh by train or car in approximately two and a half hours, making it convenient for a short getaway from the city.

Ancient Beauty - The Former Capital of the Vietnamese

Few people know that Ninh Binh was once the political heart of the nation. In 968 AD, Dinh Tien Hoang, the ruler who ended more than a thousand years of Chinese domination and unified the country from the 12 warlords-chose Hoa Lu Ancient Capital as the capital of Dai Co Viet. The mountainous terrain of Ninh Binh served as one of the most solid natural defensive walls at that time. For 42 years, Hoa Lu was the center of power of the Dinh and Early Le dynasties, before Ly Thai To moved the capital to Thang Long in 1010. Today, the temples dedicated to King Dinh and King Le still remain, hidden beneath ancient trees and limestone cliffs, a space where anyone who visits can feel the weight of a thousand years of history.

The Status of "Halong Bay on Land" and a Unique Mixed Heritage

Ninh Binh possesses a dramatic transitional landscape from delta to towering limestone mountains. It is the only place in Southeast Asia recognized by UNESCO as a mixed World Heritage Site (both cultural and natural) for the Trang An Landscape Complex.

The beauty of Ninh Binh is often compared to a "Halong Bay on land," yet it carries an additional quiet, contemplative charm of the Northern countryside.

Hang Mua: The Imprint of Kings

To fully take in the grandeur of this land, Hang Mua is a must-visit destination. After climbing nearly 500 stone steps intricately carved in the architectural style of the Tran Dynasty, you will stand atop Ngoa Long Mountain. From here, the core heritage area of Tam Coc unfolds like a giant ink painting a truly "royal" viewpoint that any photographer or traveler longs for.

Boat Trips in Trang An & Tam Coc - Drifting Through Layers of Caves

The most iconic experience in Ninh Binh is sitting on a small boat, letting the rower gently guide you through caves stretching hundreds of meters, with steep limestone cliffs on both sides and light filtering through to create magical hues. Trang An offers three different boat routes, lasting from 2 to 3.5 hours, passing through more than nine caves and visiting ancient temples hidden deep within the mountains.

Tam Coc with its three caves (Hang Ca, Hang Hai, and Hang Ba) aligned along the Ngo Dong River has a more poetic beauty, especially during the rice harvest season when the riverbanks turn golden. If you wish to completely escape the crowds, Van Lohg Nature Reserve the largest inland wetland in the Red River Delta offers a place where you can drift across thousands of hectares of peaceful water and observe the rare Delacour's langur, a primate species found only in a few locations worldwide.

Culinary Identity from the Mountains

A journey to Ninh Binh would not be complete without its local specialties. Mountain goat meat firm in texture and fragrant with herbal notes paired with crispy scorched rice (com chay) creates a perfect combination of local ingredients, reflecting the culinary refinement of this ancient capital region.

INSIDER TIPS:

HOW TO LOVE Ho Chi Minh City LIKE A LOCAL

Like a local

Saigon - officially known as Ho Chi Minh City, is a living, breathing organism where energy never runs out. To fully embrace the rhythm of this "Pearl of the Far East" this summer, keep these small yet refined tips in mind:

1. The "specialty" of summer showers

Summer in Saigon comes with sudden tropical downpours. Don't worry-they arrive quickly and leave just as fast.

Tip: Always carry a compact umbrella or a light raincoat. When the rain hits, duck into a roadside café, sip on a glass of Vietnamese iced milk coffee, and watch the city transform in the rain an experience that feels uniquely poetic and unmistakably Saigon.

2. The art of getting around: Apps & Water Bus

Saigon is vast, and traffic can get intense during rush hours (7:30-9:00 AM and 5:00-7:00 PM).

Tip: Use ride-hailing apps like Grab or Be to estimate fares and routes in advance. Don't miss the Saigon Water Bus at sunset an affordable ride that offers stunning views of the skyline, including Landmark 81, from the breezy Saigon River.

3. Elevated street food experiences

The soul of Saigon lives in its alleyways and sidewalks. Don't hesitate to try humble-looking eateries packed with locals.

Tip: Go for Cơm Tấm (broken rice) in the morning or fresh snails in the evening. If hygiene is a concern, opt for Michelin-recommended restaurants-where local flavors meet international standards.

4. Dress smart & stay protected

Saigon's summer heat is intense, with high humidity.

Tip: Choose breathable fabrics like linen or cotton. Sunscreen and sunglasses are essential during the day. Also, bring a light jacket - air conditioning in malls and cinemas can be surprisingly strong.

5. Alley culture & warm hospitality

Saigon people are known for their friendliness and openness. If you get lost, just ask for help is always close.

Tip: Take time to wander through hidden alleys. That's where you'll find ancient pagodas, long-standing tailor shops, and the most genuine smiles. Saigon is at its best when you slow down.

6. Sightseeing via Double-Decker Bus (Hop-on Hop-off)

Instead of navigating the bustling traffic yourself, opt for a more leisurely way to admire the city's iconic architectural landmarks.

Tip: Book a night tour on the double-decker bus as the city lights up. The route takes you past the Opera House, Independence Palace, and Central Post Office, offering a breezy, elevated vantage point perfect for photography.

7. Museums in the Early Morning Saigon's museums do not only house history but also boast stunning architecture, making them ideal for capturing beautiful memories.

Tip: Visit the Fine Arts Museum or the Ho Chi Minh City Museum right at opening time. The soft morning light filtering through the arched windows creates a majestic atmosphere for appreciating art.

8. Experience Local Markets Beyond the world-famous Ben Thanh Market, Saigon is home to many authentic local markets waiting to be discovered.

Tip: Head to Tan Dinh Market. Here, you will find premium textiles and a "legendary" food court featuring local favorites like savory pork rib congee and the renowned Tan Dinh chicken sticky rice.

9. Personal Device Safety While Saigon is incredibly friendly, it is always wise to be mindful of your belongings in crowded areas.

Tip: When checking maps or taking photos on the sidewalk, stay aware of your surroundings and hold your phone securely. It is best to step further back from the curb to ensure your personal devices remain safe.

10. Embrace the Vibrant Nightlife When the streetlights flicker on, Saigon truly comes alive with a completely different persona.

Tip: Conclude your day at one of EHG's premier Rooftop Bars. Watching the streams of traffic weave like threads of light beneath your feet while sipping a signature cocktail is the ultimate way to feel the true pulse of the city.
